

How to Create a Before and After Video for your Smart TV!

Tools Needed:

- Software: Photos /old Iphoto (Machintosh applicaiton that comes with all the macs)
- Before and After Photos
- Music

Step 1

Open Iphoto and gather all the before and after pictures in a single album. To create an album -> click on the “+” symbol beside “my albums” on the left pane. You could simply drag and drop pictures inside the new album, or select the pictures and with the right button of the mouse -> add to -> your new album.

Step 2

Open the new album then select all the photos you’ve included. Mouse right click -> Create -> Slideshow. Select New Slideshow and give it a name. It will open the Slideshow Preview, re-arrange the pictures if needed.

Step 3

On the right side of the window, there is a three icon set. First option shows the Theme, middle option shows the music settings and the bottom option would show you the general settings, slideshow length, etc. Standard settings would work perfectly, but if you have time to spend there for it!

Step 4

Export your video: Locate on the top right the “EXPORT” button, click on it: Choose the saving location / name and the format, I would use 1080, but depends on your computer and TV, you can go up to 4k if desired.

Step 5

You are ready creating your before and after slideshow. Go to step two of the basic manual (How to create a Video

Hints!

- As you are creating a photo slideshow that will share the TV with Laura’s Two minute video tutorials, you may like to create short photo slideshows, lets talk around 2:30 minutes so the entire playlist is smoth between photos and videos to make sure your audience gets hooked.
- Take the time to choose good pictures. :) I wouldn’t recommend a select all and convert to video process.
